Good morning! It's Zain from 831 and I'm here this Talk A Lot Tuesday on behalf of the S.E.A.L Team.

Did you know that today is National Voter Registration Day. You might be thinking what's so important about this day. Well, one reason is that voting is one of our most basic political rights. It is the process of choosing our leaders, such as the president, congress members, or other important people. It gives us a say in how decisions are made in the United States.

You might wonder if your vote makes a difference, but as Dwight D. Eisenhower, the 34th President of the United States, said, "The future of this republic is in the hands of the voter." This insightful statement shows how important it is for each of us to get involved in politics and help shape the future of our country.

This ability to take part in politics shows how much we care about the United States. In the end, we have a moral duty as responsible U.S. citizens to use our right to vote. It's a strong way to show how much we care about the ideas and values on which this great country was built.

Thanks for listening have a Time to Vote Tuesday 😊
