Good morning! It's Celine from 714 and I'm here this SEAL Summary Friday on behalf of the S.E.A.L Team.

Did you know today is the International Day of Human Space Flight? Today is the date of the first human space flight carried out by Yuri Gagarin, a Soviet citizen. This day marks the anniversary of Yuri Gagarin's first human space exploration. This historic event opened doors for space exploration for the benefit of all humanity. This day serves as a reminder of the incredible journey of space exploration astronauts have done and has expanded our knowledge and understanding of the universe. The International Day of Human Space Flight celebrates the historic milestones and encourages others to dream big and pursue their dreams.

This day also serves as a reminder that teamwork, resilience, pursuing your dreams and overcoming challenges can be at your fingertips if you try and never give up. This is key to overcoming obstacles and achieving your goals.

Thanks for listening have a Take it to the Limit Thursday 😊
